Laos Premier, Reds Resume Peace Talks

Neutralist Faces Widening Demands From Pathet Lao

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Neutralist Premier Prince Souvanna Phouma flew to the Plaines Jarres area today to resume peace talks with the Communist controlled-Pathet Lao.

He faced widening demands from the Pathet Lao in the talks, originally confined to hostilities in the Plaines region but later enlarged to include political questions dividing the shaky coalition government. Fighting in the Plaines has lull since Friday.

Asks Expansion of Talks

The Pathet Lao demanded an expansion of the truce talks after charging that right-wing forces of Gen. Phoumi Nosavan were airlifted aboard American planes to the Plaines to reinforce outnumbered troops of neutralist Gen. Kong Le.

Kong Le, Phoumi and the American Embassy denied the accusations.

Western officials have charged that Communist North Viet Nam is aiding the Pathet Lao drive to overrun this strategic Southeast Asian kingdom.

Sixteen North Vietnamese technicians employed at the Plaines Jarres airport were repatriated to Hanoi today by agreement of the North Vietnamese and Laotian governments.

To Withdraw Workers

North Viet Nam also announced it will withdraw for "security reasons" an estimated 300 other workers constructing houses at Khang Khay, the Pathet Lao headquarters.

The International Control Commission charged with maintaining peace in Laos, said it would establish a continuing observation base to the Plaines.

Informed sources noted however that Poland, the Communist member of the three-nation commission, opposed the decision. Canada and India, the other two members, apparently decided on the continuing observation post over Polish objections. The Pathet Lao previously had opposed stationing over an ICC team permanently in the troubled area.

Described As Hopeless

Although Premier Khrushchev assured U.S. Undersecretary of State W. Averell Harriman last week that he would support neutrality for Laos, some diplomatic observers here described Harriman's peacekeeping mission to Moscow as hopeless from the start.

"It flopped before it began," one Western observer said. "There is very little Russia can do today to influence the situation positively in Laos."

Haiti 'Backs Down' Tension Eases In Caribbean

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—War threats receded today as the Dominican Republic claimed a bloodless victory over Haitian dictator Francois Duvalier and inter-American conciliators winged toward this Caribbean island.

The Dominican government radio proclaimed a "triumph for our national dignity" in the Haitian government's removal of guards from the grounds of the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. Alleged opponents of Duvalier had taken refuge there.

President Juan Bosch's government also took satisfaction from assurances from Haiti that it would respect the security of diplomatic missions there.

The Dominican government had charged that Haitian troops had invaded and surrounded its embassy in Port au Prince. Threatening to use force unless Duvalier gave in by 8 o'clock Monday night it sent troop reinforcements to stations near the Haitian border and moved warships toward the French-speaking Negro republic with which it shares the island of Hispaniola.

A fact-finding mission from the Organization of American States left New York for Port au Prince and Santo Domingo to try to smooth over the differences.

Radio Santo Domingo said President Romulo Betancourt of Venezuela had offered the Dominican government "all you need in your fight to free the people of Haiti from the dictator."

The U.S. government disclosed that it was withdrawing a 30-man naval training mission from Haiti at Duvalier's demand. Duvalier's demand was made Saturday, before the flareup in relations with the Dominican Republic, and obviously resulted from Washington's open opposition in recent months to the Duvalier dictatorship. The United States declined Monday to serve on the OAS peace mission because of its strained relations with Haiti.

Educators To Hear Dr. Abraham Gifted Child To Be Meeting Topic

Ohio's intellectually well-endowed children will be in the spotlight Saturday when Salem is host for the first time to the annual conference of the Ohio Association for Gifted Children.

Arrangements to hold this 11th yearly conclave in Salem were made by Superintendent of Schools Paul E. Smith and E. S. Kerr, former superintendent of schools and a leader in bringing the problems of the gifted child to the forefront of education. About 200 persons are expected to attend.

Dr. Willard Abraham, professor of education at Arizona State University at Tempe, will be the main speaker at the sessions at the senior high school.

Dr. Abraham, a teacher, writer and editor, is chairman of the Department of Educational Services and coordinator of special education at Arizona State.

He served as a technical consultant to the 1960 White House Conference on Children and Youth, preparing research on both gifted and slow learners. He also served as a consultant with the North Central Association Superior-Talented Student Project from 1958-60.

Common Sense Approach

The best known book on the exceptional child by Dr. Abraham is "Common Sense about Gifted Children" from which the Salem conference takes its theme. He has also published a wide variety of articles dealing with these special children in professional and popular magazines.

The general session will open at 9:30 with Dorothy E. Norris, president of the Ohio Association for Gifted Children and supervisor.

Teachers' Work To Let Pupils Off

Salem Junior High and Senior High School students will enjoy half-day sessions Wednesday and Thursday.

Dismissal of the pupils will enable teachers to spend the afternoon transferring statistical information from outmoded guidance cards to new ones which have been developed and recommended by the faculty guidance committee. Supt. Paul E. Smith explained.

The revision will enable guidance counselors and college admissions directors to have a much more comprehensive picture of a child's total educational background, he said.

The teachers will work in pairs in assembling the information on the new cards.

They were devised by a committee composed of High School Principal Berman Ludwig, Assistant Principal John Callahan; Mrs. Fred Cope, dean of girls; Junior High Principal Wayne Grinnen; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Pridon; and Mrs. Paul Hum of the Junior High staff and Miss Dorothy Smith, McKinley school principal.

Fanfani Party Holding Own In Italian Election

Monarchists Big Losers; Liberals Gaining Heavily

ROME (AP)—Parties backing Christian Democratic Premier Amintore Fanfani's "opening to the left" were just holding their own today in returns from the Italian parliamentary elections.

The Christian Democrats themselves were slightly down, and the Conservative Liberals—opponents of Fanfani's leftist leaning—had made big gains. But the big losers were the Monarchists, on the far right.

Making Small Gains

Fanfani's Socialist allies were making small gains, indicating that a center-left coalition would remain in power. But the Liberal gains promised Fanfani some trouble from rightist members of his own party. They were expected to demand a more rightward trend in an effort to counter the Liberals, who campaigned on a free enterprise platform.

There was no chance of a Christian Democratic majority, but this had not been expected.

Remain No. 2 Party

The Communists increased their percentage of the vote and remained Italy's No. 2 party, but far behind the Christian Democrats.

The elections, first since 1958, chose 630 members of the Chamber of Deputies and 315 senators. In the last Parliament Fanfani headed a minority coalition government of Christian Democrats, Republicans and Democratic Socialists, but support from Pietro Nenni's left-wing Socialists gave him a voting majority.

Opposed by Rightists

It was this alliance with the Nenni Socialists and a policy of limited government nationalization and control of industry that constituted Fanfani's "opening to the left." The premier was opposed by rightist members of his own party. But he maintained that only a vigorous government program of economic reform could combat Italy's chronic economic ills, particularly in the south.

Saipan Island 'Flattened' By Typhoon

AGANA, Guam (AP)—A radio message from nearby Saipan Island today said Typhoon Olive, packing 110-mile an hour winds, destroyed 95 per cent of the homes and nearly half the island's public buildings.

The message said no deaths were reported. One person was injured as the devastating Pacific storm—the second to slam into the Mariana Islands in six months—flattened Saipan.

Property damages were estimated at $2 million. All electrical power and telephone lines were bowled over and water service was knocked out, the message said.

Saipan and Tinian Islands were struck by Olive after the storm dealt less damaging blows to Guam and Rota Island, also in the Trust Territory chain.

Major Bills Up For Vote

'Semifinals' To Start Today In Ohio House

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The semifinals of Ohio's 105th General Assembly are coming up today and Wednesday in the House. The finals will come in another month or two in the Senate.

The House Republican majority is expected to jam through Wednesday and send to the Senate a bill to appropriate nearly $1.3 billion to operate the state for the next two years without allowing any money for new state university classrooms and laboratories.

Today, the House plans to vote on a new Department of Industrial Development bill. It will replace the old administration's Department of Industrial and Economic Development (DIED) and set up a financial agency to issue bonds to attract new industry and expand present industrial developments.

Democrats are expected to throw several dozen amendments at the controversial measures before admitting defeat in the House. Then the bills will have their final hearings in the Senate.

The House did an unusual thing Monday night as it opened its 17th week of sessions: It defeated three bills in a row—a record for more than a decade. The bills defeated would have:

Changed carryout beer permits to permit sale of "pony kegs and increase the number of cases of bottled beer which might be sold in one transaction from two to a unlimited number of cases."

Required boards of health of general health districts to license plumbers.

Permitted counties to pay employees every two weeks instead

Dillon Foresees Deficit Cut

Rising Economic Outlook Reported

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon said today the economic outlook is promising that the estimated $11.9 billion deficit in President Kennedy's 1963-64 budget may be cut a billion dollars.

This provides even more reason for reducing taxes, Dillon told a meeting of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce.

Kennedy had forecast the deficit of nearly $12 billion—largest ever projected—when he proposed a $98.8 billion spending program for the year beginning July 1, along with a three-step tax reduction plan.

In his prepared remarks for a tax and spending discussion on the second day of the business group's meeting, Dillon said it would have been unrealistic four or five months ago to expect conditions for a tax cut would be so favorable. Now, he said, "the time is right."

Based upon the economy's performance in the last few months, he added, prospects for the year are relatively better than most observers had anticipated.

"If the improvement continues," Dillon said, "our estimated revenues for fiscal 1964 may well be more than we estimated in January—perhaps by as much as a billion dollars—thus reducing the deficit."

"Even more important, a tax cut when the economy is reasonably buoyant would be far more effective in carrying us toward full employment than a tax cut when the economy is merely limping along."

He said Kennedy's tax program is designed to "accelerate our economy" well into the future. The economy now, he said, is ideal for this kind of program.

Funeral For H.V. Coleman Set Thursday

LEETONIA — Funeral services will be held Thursday for Harry V. "Red" Coleman, assistant superintendent and production metallurgist at the National Rubber Co. of Columbiana, who died Sunday after a two-car collision in Portage County.

Coleman, 34, of 322 State St. died of a fractured skull Sunday at 11:30 p.m. in Robinson Memorial Hospital in Ravenna an hour after the collision at the intersection of Route 224 and 43 near Suffield.

His wife, Maxine Duga Coleman, is listed in fair condition at the Ravenna hospital. She received cuts and bruises.

The Ravenna post of the State Highway Patrol reported Coleman was driving east on Route 224 when his auto collided with one operated by Arthur Fuller, 45, of Hudson, traveling north on Route 43.

The couple's teenage son, David M. Coleman, was not along on the trip that ended in tragedy. He remained at the home.

Coleman was employed at the National Rubber Co. in Columbiana since May 1954 after he moved from Canton where he was born June 18, 1928.

He was the son of Robert and Mildred Mott Coleman and a member of the Leetonia Presby-

Rocky Proposes U.S.-Red Swap Both To Curtail Cuba Activities

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he believes the United States could make a profitable swap with the Soviet Union on Cuba—the Soviets to stop training saboteurs there in exchange for the American restraints placed on anti-Castro "freedom fighters."

He said President Kennedy should advise Premier Khrushchev, "If you continue this, we will be forced to take drastic action."

The New York governor did not spell out what he meant by drastic action.

Rockefeller set forth his views on Cuba Monday night in a speech before a Republican fund-raising dinner in Cincinnati, Ohio. He spoke to an audience of 1,500 who paid $100 a ticket.

During his one-day visit to Cincinnati, the New York governor also said President Kennedy has made a "clear failure of leadership in Washington." He said Kennedy has not lived up to the "lavish promises" made during the 1960 presidential campaign.

"The American people are being short-changed—in jobs, in security, in living standards, and in social advance," he said.

The governor drew his biggest round of applause when he discussed Cuba and said "perhaps we can get some reciprocity from Mr. Khrushchev."

Before the speech he said in a television interview:

"It seems to me that it might be a very valuable thing if the President of the United States should say to the Soviet Union that we would like to demand that the Soviet Union give the same guarantee to prevent those Latin Americans who are being brought into Cuba for training in sabotage and subversion in the whole area of penetration and disruption of the free governments of Latin America."

"We might demand from the Soviets this action on the part of the Cubans, which is very comparable to what the (anti-Castro) Cubans are trying to do to the Cuban government."

Rockefeller said "this is the most serious threat to the Western Hemisphere."

Indirectly he attacked the administration over the situation in Laos where the coalition government is threatened by Communist troops. He said the United States has had experience with coalition governments in China and Berlin and he asked: "Did they work? Who would have thought this would happen in Laos?"

Over 50 Hurt; Six States Hit

TUNICA, Miss. (AP)—Tornadoes roared through widespread areas of the south and central parts of the nation Monday and Tuesday night, leaving 10 dead and more than 50 injured.

Four persons were killed near this north Mississippi town when a tornado skipped across the Mississippi River from Arkansas and hit the Moon Lake fishing area. Two others were killed 140 miles east at Shannon, Miss.

Farther north, the Tennessee highway patrol reported two killed by a twister at Maury City, about 90 miles northeast of Memphis. One was reported killed in Hamilton, Ala., in the northwest part of the state near the Mississippi line.

Hit Two Other States

An elderly woman was killed in Randles, Mo. Other tornadoes struck Indiana and Kentucky. High winds were reported in Louisiana.

Those killed at Moon Lake near Tunica were listed as Ausley Buchanan; Melinda Foster, 5; Mrs. Tiny Evans, 70, the girl's grandmother, and E. L. Culp. Killed at Shanon were A. C. Pounds, about 35, and Beatrice Hodges.

The Maury City, Tenn., victims were listed as Mrs. Sissie Starks, 86, of Friendship, Tenn., and her daughter, Mrs. Frank Branch, 39, of Jackson, Tenn. They were visiting in the home of Mrs. Starks' son, G. P. Starks. The frame house was destroyed.

At Least 17 Hurt

The man killed in Alabama was not identified. The Marion County, Ala., sheriff's office said at least 17 other persons were injured in the Hamilton twister, most of them teen-agers gathered in a cafe.

Heavy property damage was reported in most of the stricken states. The most destructive twister apparently touched down first at the Moon Lake area in Mississippi and then spun east for five miles to the community of Rich. The four persons were killed and a dozen injured when a row of six tenant houses was flattened on a plantation.

One house near Rich was car-

Ohio Civil Defense Program Gains Despite Public Apathy

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Civil defense? Oh, that's something everybody talks about everytime there is an international crisis.

"It's disappointing to say that civil defense must live on crises," Alfred E. Diamond, Ohio's civil defense director, commented. "It should be an integral part of the national defense structure."

However, Diamond said, Ohio's civil defense program is moving along at an average pace despite the apparent decrease in public interest with the lessening of the Cuban situation.

Diamond said 5,822 buildings in the state have been surveyed and designed structurally sound for public shelter. About 2500 of these have been licensed and marked as public shelters and about 1000 have been stocked with food water first aid supplies and other equipment.

"All of the buildings could shelter about four million people," Diamond said. That's less than half of Ohio's nearly 10 million population.

"Of course the over-all plan is to have a place designated for everyone."

Diamond said it is hard to determine just how much help the Cuban crisis was in advancing civil defense work in Ohio but he emphasized that it was of some help.

The training program currently seems to be the most rapid growing area of civil defense in Ohio, Diamond said.

The State Department of Education is training teachers to go to the public to explain the overall civil defense program, first aid, what individuals can do and, in general, create an interest strong enough to make people do something.

The Department of Health is expanding on the emergency medical aspect of civil defense. Doctors and nurses are teaching more advanced medical treatment — treatment normally given by a doctor. Diamond said high school seniors are being given this instruction in their schools with the theory that every family should have at least one member trained in something a little more advanced than first aid.

Starting this fall, Ohio State University is expected to offer an instructors course in civil defense. This will enable teachers to be trained so they can train others.

Conservative Group In House Batting Zero This Session

WASHINGTON (AP)—The once powerful conservative coalition in the House has lost every test so far in the present Congress.

Leaders of both parties agreed today, in separate interviews, that the combination of Republicans and Southern Democrats that dominated the House for nearly a generation just isn't what it used to be.

A review of the four major test votes that have taken place in the House since the new Congress convened in January bears them out.

What has happened is this: the Republican ranks are as firm as ever, but more and more Southern Democrats are voting like Northern and Western Democrats.

However the four votes are not all clearcut indicators of conservative strength. There is some indication that Democratic leaders have put their best foot forward by bringing up bills on which they felt their chances were best.

For the purposes of the analysis the votes of the 95 Democrats from the 11 states that made up the old Confederacy were examined. The total party division in the House is 257 Democrats and 177 Republicans, with one vacancy.

Here is the pro and anti-administration split among the Southern Democrats on the four votes:

—Jan. 9, to keep the Rules Committee membership at 15, aimed at making it easier to get administration bills to the House floor. Southerners voted 50-44 with the administration.

—April 10, To restore $450 million for emergency public works. The split was 60-28.

—April 24, Against removing a $30-million student loan provision from the doctor-dentist training bill. Southerners 53-28.

—April Against killing the administration's feed grains bill. Southerners 67-18.

On all these votes Republican Leader Charles A. Halleck of Indiana held his party members in a virtually solid block.

But, Halleck said in an interview, "we can't do anything for fiscal responsibility without some support for the other side. And that support just hasn't been there."

The Doctor Says

By Dr. WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT

Health Questions, Answers

Q—I have been taking a Dexamyl capsule every day for about four years. Without the capsule, I am unable to navigate. My doctor has tried to get me to stop. I am underweight and very nervous. What is Dexamyl, and what should I do?

A—Dexamyl is a mixture that contains amphetamine (Dexedrine) and a barbiturate. Since one of its uses is to curb your appetite, no wonder you are underweight and nervous.

The amphetamine is a stimulant. The barbiturate is a depressant (sleep inducer), so the two work against each other, but both are habit-forming.

I get many letters from persons who have grown to depend on drugs that are potentially dangerous, and who are wrecking their health by continuing to take them. For every person who is benefited by a short course of such a drug there must be many like you.

I cannot urge too strongly that you have your doctor put you in a hospital and take you off this drug. After your system is completely rid of it, your doctor can build you up with a nourishing diet and a sensible work schedule with plenty of restful sleep. Then, and only then, will you begin to feel like a normal human being again.

Q—I am 63, and have had bursitis in both shoulders for a year. I can work during the day, but at night my shoulders ache and keep me awake. Does eating foods that contain calcium make it worse? Is there any cure?

A—Bursitis is an inflammation of a saclike part of the shoulder joint. The calcium in your diet is in no way responsible. The cause is usually some injury. This is not necessarily a severe blow, but may be the result of minor irritations frequently repeated.

Injection of the bursal sac with procaine or hydrocortisone often gives complete relief.

Because of the pain, there is danger of not using the joint, and thus it may become stiff. For this reason, you should move the joint gently through its entire range of motion two or three times every day.

Q—My ears keep filling up with wax. I have a large ear syringe that I use with warm water, but this gives only temporary relief. Could I add anything to the water to get a better result?

A—In most people the cilia in the ear canal keep the wax moving outward. In a few persons, the wax hardens and has to be washed out. If you get all the wax out, you should not need to wash your ear out again for several months. But it is hard to get all the wax out with warm water only.

A few drops of fresh peroxide placed in the ear while you are lying on one side would help to soften the wax. You should wait about 10 minutes after applying the peroxide before washing it out.

An even better plan is to drop a few drops of olive oil or mineral oil in your ear at night, then wash it out in the morning.

Phone Athlete

By JOY STILLEY

NEW YORK (AP) — President Kennedy may be worried about the physical fitness of the younger generation, but I can set his mind at ease about the younger generation in our household, at least.

In just one 30-minute phone conversation my daughter gets enough exercise of various kinds to qualify her for entrance into almost any Olympic event.

She'd be a natural for the discus throw, having an unerring aim with apple cores and peanut shells that sends them straight into the wastebasket in the far corner of the room.

As for me—I'm in shape for the broad jump, since Gay is always in a heap in the middle of the floor right between where I am and where I want to be.

She walks, jumps, skips, does pushups, practices deep knee bends and stands on her head, all while eating raisins, drinking soda pop, munching on bread, brushing her hair and keeping up a running conversation with another 13-year-old on the other end of the line—who is doubtless doing these same things in her own indoor gym.

My amateur athlete keeps herself in superb condition with two or three hours a day of these calisthenics, all while clutching the phone between her ear and shoulder, in the crook of her arm, or balanced on her stomach while she sprawls comfortably on the floor.

A good deal of her activity is concerned with supplying herself with the necessities of life from the various storage places within her reach. Fortunately for her, the telephone is in the kitchen and the cord stretches just enough to allow her free access to the refrigerator and to cabinets stocked with food to give her energy for her talkathons.

Besides serving as a medium of communication and an opportunity to do the daily dozen, the prolonged sessions with Mr. Bell's brainchild give dad the perfect excuse when he's late for

Computer Minds On New Frontier

When the annual convention of the American Society of Newspaper Editors ended in Washington, delegates had seen and heard a cross-section of Kennedy administration personalities.

This closeup is a ASNE tradition. It is understood that government officials will go on display for the editors and that the editors will give the officials thorough scrutiny. What did they see in the Kennedy administration? What was there they did not detect in 1961, on their first inspection?

They heard and questioned President Kennedy, Secretary of State Rusk, undersecretaries George Ball and Averell Harriman, Budget Director Kermit Gordon, Secretary of Labor Wirtz and Secretary of Defense Robert McNamara.

PERHAPS Secretary McNamara could be judged typical of the dominant trait in the New Frontier — the computer mind.

Here is an engrossing, experiment in government administration. The Kennedy administration, having drawn heavily on men of unusual educational attainments, is trying to run public affairs by applied logic. This never has been tried before.

These men share strong convictions about long views being preferable to short views. They put their faith in the facts they are able to collect, not in their feelings. Computers have no feelings.

It has been no secret that they have relied on computers for complex decisions about armaments. Secretary McNamara in particular has made it clear he is guided wholly by the facts he assembles; that he will not let politics, whims, and pressures jar him off his clear course of logic.

This does not imply that the Kennedy administration is a stranger to politics. It is diligent and competent in political tactics.

THE DIFFERENCE between it and its predecessors is in political strategy. It is inclined to take the long view, in preference to the short view.

In budget management, it has urged Congress to cut taxes currently for the sake of boosting revenue eventually — a long-range view.

In military management, it has tried to regularize weapons systems with a view to long-range strategy, instead of letting itself be preoccupied with ideas of the moment.

In foreign policy, its long-range views about keeping steady-as-she-goes courses instead of zig-zagging in response to changing impulses, has been particularly hard to comprehend and exposed it to charges of appeasement.

The controversial issues between the administration and its critics are the result of this frame of mind — the calculated course, the persistent policy, steady-as-she-goes piloting.

But what sometimes has given the appearance of weakness and reluctance to strike out resolutely with "vigor" actually is the main stem of New Frontier procedure — the stability of the computer minds that dominate it.

Whether they can dominate the United States is the question.

On the Right Track

Gen. Clay's offer to show how another $200 million could be taken out of the foreign aid bill without hurting it backs up a popular conviction about this multi-billion-dollar budget monster.

First it was President Kennedy who offered to take $400 million out of the bill after studying the report of the advisory committee headed by Gen. Clay. Then it is Gen. Clay offering to take out another $200 million.

This brings the remainder down to a trifle over $4 billion, and who wants to bet it couldn't be trimmed another $800 million without hurting the long-range effect of foreign aid?

This is a tricky effect, because it is related as closely to commitments to do thus and so in the future as expenditures in the present.

ent. Foreign aid authorizations and appropriations are part of a ritual in which the United States portrays the depth and breadth of its generous intentions.

In any given year, a dip in foreign aid money authorized by Congress would have no immediate effect as far as spending is concerned. In fact, if it were the intent of Congress to taper off foreign aid by 1970 the tapering off should begin no later than the next fiscal year.

President Kennedy and Gen. Clay between them have tapered from nearly $5 billion down to a trifle over $4 billion. Another cut of similar proportions would take the total down to about $3.5 billion, which would be a good start toward swearing off foreign aid by 1970.

The popular conviction? That they are on the right track.

Anyone Speak Chinese?

What would happen if the United States and the Soviet Union agreed all over again to make Laos neutral ground in the ideological struggle between freedom and authoritarianism, only to find that the Soviet Union had nothing to do with it?

A year ago, rumors that Communist Chinese were busy in Laos were denied stoutly by American sources, after Laotian troops and South Viet Nam forces reportedly had strayed off the reservation and stirred up a war scare.

A year later, a fresh outbreak of trouble renews the suspicion that Communist China is not neglecting the possibilities in Laos. When have Communists ever passed up a chance to stir up trouble for the United States?

It could very well be, relations between Moscow and Peking being as they appear to be, that Moscow has no more authority to make an agreement about Laos than to make a ruling on what constitutes a balk in the National League.

It could very well be that the United States when insists that Moscow go through the motions of enforcing an agreement about Laos is giving it a chance to tell the Asian world it has no authority over Red China—that the Communist coalition is a myth, just as many observers have insisted.

One of these, George F. Kennan, has just announced his resignation as U.S. ambassador to Yugoslavia, presumably because he believes this so thoroughly he can't stand to see all Communists lumped into one gigantic bogeyman.

Our School Bands

High School bands have to be good to win top ratings in district competition and better still to achieve high acclaim in statewide competition.

The Leontonia and Southern Local bands brought superior ratings home with them from the Columbus judges and the Columbiana and Lisbon high school bands excellent ratings.

Each of the Columbiana County high school musical aggregations and their directors deserve public acclaim.

Not Merry Now

Each year when May Day is due again, this column is devoted to the switch in what once was a thumping occasion.

The intention is not to take anything away from the fine people who have made May Day into something else; they deserve credit for their intentions.

It isn't even the intention to knock the Wobblies and anarchists who made May Day a time of horror until a few years ago. They and the Communists who came along later could not stand happy, irresponsible people having pleasure on May Day so they erected barricades and baited cops into skirmishes so they could stick pins into the horses of the mounted divisions.

This is all May Day has meant to most people, unless they attended one of those seminars for young ladies that carried along the traditional May Pole ceremony.

Unless the young ladies were alert and knew their anthropology, they had no more idea than fuzzy little bunnies what they were doing, which was a good thing. Otherwise, their mommies and pappies would have scratched out of harm's reach and registered them in some state university where symbolic rituals would have been forbidden by the board of regents.

The May Pole, of course, had to go; the Puritans hated it as a reminder of their own predilections they concealed beneath a cloak of prudishness. That meant in a general sense everything associated with the May Pole had to go. Merrie England turned blue under Oliver Cromwell and his ilk.

It was all over but the shouting and the queuing by the 18th century. The May Pole, May Day and the paganism that still endears the English to anthropologists, poets and sentimentalists were routed. No one had more fun while it lasted.

It is better now. The stern and righteous people who beat one another's heads in and butchered each other over conflicts of rightous opinion built the British Empire and fluttered the Union Jack over distant places. May Pole dancers would have shrugged off all this as unimportant.

Everything that perfidious Albion is and hopes to be it owes to the moral character of the empire builders who matched their faith against all challengers and upheld it, right or wrong, with two-handed swinging of doubled-edged swords.

Paganism still gets in some licks in England. The night before Midsummer's Day in June, the natives get restless. They migrate to Stonehenge by the tens of thousands, park their little cars all over the surrounding countryside and carry on some thing fierce till daybreak.

They associate this with the legend that the sun comes up on Midsummer Day directly over an ancient stone called the Heel Stone. It doesn't, but they believe it does, and that's what matters.

May Day has been given up as hopeless. It belongs now to sallow youths who want to Ban the Bomb and pass laws to treat homosexuals as legal equals. No one remembers the red-cheeked girls and the bumptious boys who once went a-Maying on May 1 and whooped it up so whoopey the Puritans couldn't stand it and prohibited boying and girling, except on Puritan terms.

England hasn't been called merry since, and it's too bad.

Judgment Day Seems Near for Haiti's 'Papa Doc'

By BERT QUINT

Judgment Day seems to be at hand for "Papa Doc" Duvalier, the Negro dictator of the Black Republic of Haiti.

Not only is the embattled president of Haiti faced with a revolt of his own people, he also faces the threat of an armed clash with his neighbor country, the Dominican Republic.

President Juan Bosch, Monday, gave the Haitian president 24 hours to withdraw troops surrounding the Dominican Embassy in Port au Prince. The Embassy is sheltering 22 foes of the Haitian president.

The dispute with the Dominicans flared as a result of Duvalier's attempt to crush rising opposition to his regime.

EVER SINCE 1957, when Francois Duvalier, a country doctor-turned politician, became president by means of elections that were neither more nor less fraudulent than those to which his island country was accustomed, there was no law but his own. Extortion, murder and a complete lack of even the most elemental civil liberties became a way of life.

The four million people, most of them impoverished and illiterate, who dwell in the eastern part of the island of Hispaniola, 50 miles from Cuba, which Haiti shares with the Dominican Republic, have lived in terrified subjection. Few persons even suspected of opposing the Duvalier regime have been fortunate enough to escape to foreign embassies, especially that of Venezuela. Most have been tortured or killed.

But a few idealistic men, and many others who are more opportunistic than idealistic, have been plotting secretly.

On a recent visit to Haiti, this reporter met with several of the dedicated underground leaders—meetings that probably would have meant beatings for the reporter and torture, at the least, for plotters, if they had been discovered.

RECENT EVENTS for the island foretold that these men were ready to act, and that Duvalier was moving to stop them.

First, in mid-April, Col. Charles Turner, a high-ranking official in the Haitian Army, was arrested on charges of conspiring against Duvalier. Soon after, he was shot to death, "while attempting to escape," said the government.

Then, late in April, leaflets, apparently dropped by a small plane, floated into Port-au-Prince.

Signed by the "United Revolutionary Force," the leaflets advised people to leave the capital before May 15, because rebels intended to attack the city that day.

In the days that followed, Duvalier ordered that no American military or private plane—except the commercial Pan American World Airways craft—be permitted to enter or leave Haiti.

He dismissed four Colonels from the general staff of the armed forces and relieved 70 other officers from their command throughout the country.

This last action amounted to nearly a coup-de-grace for the army, which Duvalier has been gradually undermining in order to keep Haiti under the control of his personal civil militia, which already is bigger than the army. He feared the regular army, because of its past contact with the U.S. Marine mission, whose chief, Capt. Robert Heinle, he recently ordered out of the country.

MAY 15 has long been considered the time for a revolution. It is on that date that Duvalier's legal term of office ends. In 1961, however, he arbitrarily tacked on an extra four years by having himself "reelected" along with a new legislature consisting of only his followers.

The fact that people did not even realize he was putting his own additional term to a referendum at the same time did not matter to him.

The United States, which has cut off almost all of its aid to Haiti, feels that until May 15, Duvalier is the legal president—whether it likes him or not—and it definitely does not like him.

After that Washington would like to recognize the revolutionary government, if honest men can be found to head it.

Meanwhile, opposition leaders have confided that rebel troops are being trained in Colombia. The plan was that some time near May 15, the troops would invade, sweeping in across the border of the Dominican Republic, where a new liberal president, Juan Bosch, took office last December.

AT THE SAME time, according to this plan, uprisings would take place within Haiti. Presumably, the United States would recognize the rebel government, and perhaps even aid it.

There is, however, the possibility of communist infiltration of the rebel movements. As one opposition leader put it:

"We know that the Communists are working their way into our ranks, but we do not care. Anything would be better than Duvalier."

"All in Favor, Push a Button!"

Johnson on Team In '64

By VICTOR RIESEL

A gay and informal luncheon gathering in the White House last Wednesday — which has gone unreported — was one of the biggest political stories of the year.

In a deliberate and subtle move, President Kennedy laid low the rumors which have been widely circulated on the political demise of Vice President Lyndon Johnson.

It was clearly indicated to the guests that the ticket of 1960 would be the ticket of 1964. The guests were 32 of the nation's most influential national and regional labor leaders.

Mr. Johnson would not have been asked to this get-together if the President had not wanted his intimacy and friendship with the vice president bruited about among the men who will give their unions energy, manpower, and funds to the 1964 campaign.

The President went out of his way to make this clear to the liberal and labor leaders present.

THIS CAME shortly before the strawberries Romanoff was served. Mr. Kennedy rose for a seven-minute talk. He said that there must be a tax cut and that a balanced economy was more important than a balanced budget.

He urged the labor chiefs to go out and pressure their congressmen into passing the administration's program. Soon senators and representatives will be asked to a series of conferences with the labor men.

Then he turned to the vice president and said, "Lyndon, would you like to say a few words?" To the assembled labor leaders this was the imprimatur. During the chicken Bucheronne there had been across-the-table talk of the importance of carrying Texas and of pushing through the anti-poll-tax amendment there. The vice president spoke.

HE WAS applauded by such men as Mr. Labor himself, George

An eccentric is a person whose idiosyncrasies are different from ours.

Meany; Elmer Brown, president of the Typographical Union, whose Local 6 had struck New York's press for four months; the influential Harry Van Arsdale, leader of New York labor and launcher of the five-hour day; Howard Coughlin, leader of the swiftly-growing office employees' union; Dave Sullivan, president of the Building Service Employees' International, considered by some a future AFL-CIO national president and Alex Rose, who wears two hats. He is head of the national millinery union and leader of the influential balance-of-power New York State Liberal party.

Significantly, the President delayed the luncheon for ten minutes while he talked privately in one corner with Mr. Rose, whose party helped swing New York State to Mr. Kennedy in '60.

There is no doubt that this first of a series of bread - breakings with labor chiefs was both the kicking off of the '64 campaign and a pledging of loyalties.

MR. MEANY said, among other things, that he had been in contact with presidents for decades. He had worked with Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman, and even conferred with Dwight Eisenhower (laughter) but never has there been such cooperation from a chief executive as labor has had from John Kennedy.

Mr. Kennedy gave the labor men a sense of history and recognition which they have never had under any other president of the United States. Their camaraderie was obvious when JFK suggested they and Mr. Johnson go upstairs into his private quarters.

The President took them en masse into his personal living room and dining room. Then they went into a rarely visited chamber — the quarters of Gen. Ulysses S. Grant. The post-Civil War president had liked to meet with his Cabinet in his living quarters and not in the official Cabinet room.

THE PRESIDENT then pointed to a chandelier. It had not been up there long. Originally it hung there in Grant's time, said JFK. But somehow it was taken down and Mrs. Kennedy recovered it only recently. At this moment, Mr. Johnson, in high-humored bantering mood, suddenly cut loose with a story, the overtones of which were not lost on anyone—including the President.

"Let me tell you," said the vice president, "about that chandelier. In those days there was no air conditioning. Gen. Grant opened the windows on hot nights. The rattling of the chandelier kept the general awake. One evening he said to an aide, 'I don't want the chandelier. Get it to hell out of here. Send it over to the vice president. He needs to be kept awake.'"

Mr. Johnson had turned the joke on himself, but among the shrewd labor leaders around him, sagacious politicians, many of them, there was no doubt that Lyndon B. Johnson would be very much awake and very much on the team in '64. And that leads to '68.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I live in an apartment house which has about 50 tenants.

Several months ago I noticed my mail appeared to have been opened and the envelopes glued back together. I thought it was imagination, but when I discovered one day that the glue was still damp, I was certain.

I decided to keep my eyes open and catch the culprit. As I suspected, it was the wife of the building superintendent. I saw her jimmying the lock which gave her access to all the mail in the building. (We each have our own key but one master key can open the whole works.)

Isn't this illegal? What should I do about it?—ANTI-NOSE TROUBLE.

Dear Anti: There are federal laws that clobber people for tampering with the U.S. mails. The superintendent's wife could be face' with something far more serious than "nose trouble" if you reported her.

Give her the break she doesn't deserve and tell her you are wise. Unless she is a total nut you'll have no more trouble.

Flighty Logic

Dear Ann: You are always knocking liquor. I wonder if you have the nerve to print a letter which proves that liquor can do some good once in awhile.

Last weekend my husband and I celebrated our anniversary. We decided to do the town right.

At 3 a. m. we ended up at a Chinese Key Club which is three flights up. After several drinks I started to hunt for the powder room. Since the surroundings were unfamiliar I tried several doors. One of the doors led to the back stairs. I fell down both flights. When they picked me up at the bottom I didn't have one broken bone or even a scratch.

My husband says if I hadn't been boiled I would have broken my neck. He claims my relaxed condition saved me. Now what do you say about "the evils of booze"? — GLAD TO BE ALIVE.

Dear Glad: Bully for you. Did it ever occur to you that if you hadn't been boiled you wouldn't have fallen down at all?

In Love With Uncle

Dear Ann: I am 18 and look and act older. My Uncle Wally is 36 but looks and acts younger. He has told me he loves me and I'm sure I love him. He is not a blood relative, but an uncle by marriage. Uncle Wally married my dad's sister 10 years ago. This was a second marriage for both.

My aunt is a pleasant person but she is lazy and sloppy. They fight most of the time because she won't cook or keep house.

I know Uncle Wally and I could be happy together and he will marry me if I say the word. Boys my own age are a bore. Please tell me our love is real. Thank you.—PATTY.

Dear Patty: Your love is real, all right. Real nothing. You are fiddling around with a married man twice your age — a two-time loser — and an uncle at that.

Where are your parents, anyway? Stop seeing this moron at once or you'll be in more trouble than you need.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a self-addressed envelope.

ESCAPE HATCH — Although it has never had to be used, America's Mercury capsule has an escape rocket attached to it on a tower (1). In even of trouble in the main booster, the tower would pull the capsule to a safe altitude where a parachute would open. The successor to Mercury, the two-man Gemini capsule, will have a different system — which, it is hoped, will also never be used. At altitudes below 70,000 feet, each astronaut would be ejected individually from the capsule (2). To keep them from dangerous tumbling, "ballutes" (combination balloon-parachutes) would trail behind them (3) to stabilize their descent until parachutes could be deployed. Final landing (4) would be by parachute. The Goodyear-developed ballutes, which inflate automatically, will be about three feet in diameter and 40 inches long. At altitudes above 70,000 feet, the entire capsule would descend using a flexible parachute-wing.

TOTAL PERFORMANCE:

IF YOU KNEW WHAT HE KNOWS...YOU'D BE DRIVING THE 1963 TOTAL PERFORMANCE FORD

Ford is traditionally the nation's Number One police car. The reason: Total Performance!

When it comes to cars the police don't take chances. Put yourself in a State Trooper's shoes. Every day you must patrol hundreds of miles in your cruiser. Mileage and time grind into a man and his machine, but when the bell rings you've got to be ready. Chase. Turn. Corner. Quick stop. You've got to be able to do it all if you're going to do your job.

Listen to a trooper list the reasons why he prefers a Ford and you realize how difficult it is for any car to measure up to his standards. The car must be strong... it has to stand up to big mileage. It must be silent... when you practically live in a car a rattle can sound like a kettle drum. It must be swift... powerful enough to catch any car on the road. It must be sure... dependable even in the face of the unexpected. Strong. Silent. Swift. Sure. A four-word outline of total performance. The police demand it. That is why they choose the total performance Ford. Why should you settle for anything less?

Whatever your special demands and needs, the total performance Ford is the car most likely to satisfy you all the way down the line. You can prove this for yourself.

First, look at Ford's astounding record in open competition this year in the grueling Daytona, Riverside and Atlanta 500's, and in the demanding Pure Oil Performance Trials. Only a car with total performance could roll up so many impressive wins.

Second, before you buy any new car, test-drive the solid, silent Super Torque Ford. If you haven't driven one lately, you can't really know what a new Ford is like. Make this important discovery—if it's built by Ford, it's built for performance... total performance.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: This is only a thought and if you care to use it, help yourself!

If you do not have a garbage disposal it is easy to rinse out that apen can of food—after you dump it into your pot for cooking—by using your cold water faucet.

Rinsing this can with cold water doesn't cost near as much as hot water and you not only eliminate odors but drips from the cans of vegetables etc. which contain sugar, salt and seasonings which are attractive to bugs and create odors in brown paper bag or sack in which you usually put your garbage.

This takes little time but once you get into the habit, I bet you that you will never change. It's a nice habit, especially for those of us who do not have pick-up service every day from the city.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is to end the dust problem where your husband shaves with an electric shaver.

Men usually shave a day or powdered beard. This creates a dust an allergy problem, if he blows the clippings after cleaning the shaver!

Have him use a drop of baby oil on a moist palm, rub well into the beard, and then use that electric shaver. This gives a smooth, close comfortable shave and makes the clippings adhere together for easier cleaning of the brush to empty the shaver.

Don't blow the dust into the waste basket, use a medium size paper sack to hold the clipping separately. We have also found that use of the baby oil on the beard helps to lubricate the shaverhead.

ATRIOTS.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a widow who cleans up offices... after hours.

I have worked in this building 20 years. There are some executive who do not like their desk disturbed.

A feather duster just will not take those cigar and cigarette butts off the desk. I have found that you can remove the cleaning gadget from the end of the vacuum cleaner and hold it slightly above the desk and it will suck up all of these executive ashes which they get on their papers.

ONE MUST be very careful to hold the suction cup high enough so as not to suck up any paper! Or hold your hand on the stack of papers while doing it.

Another thing... you can put the suction hole directly into the ashtray and it will suck up butts and all.

As a suggestion to tired housewives why can't they use this to clean cluttered shelves?

ANNIE THE MAID. And just why couldn't they? I did! It works beautifully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you or any of your readers know anything that will clean chrome legs on the bathroom lavatory? I have tried several things but nothing seems to clean the spots off.

M.P.

Got a simple answer? If it costs no extra effort, and energy (fingernails or skin off the hands) please do drop us a line. Seems like every household has chrome legs in one place or the other. Letters do not have to be signed to appear in this column. Do let us hear.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

DEAR FOLKS: This is only a thought and if you care to use it, help yourself!

If you do not have a garbage disposal it is easy to rinse out that apen can of food—after you dump it into your pot for cooking—by using your cold water faucet.

Rinsing this can with cold water doesn't cost near as much as hot water and you not only eliminate odors but drips from the cans of vegetables etc. which contain sugar, salt and seasonings which are attractive to bugs and create odors in brown paper bag or sack in which you usually put your garbage.

This takes little time but once you get into the habit, I bet you that you will never change.

It's a nice habit, especially for those of us who do not have pick-up service every day from the city.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: This is to end the dust problem where your husband shaves with an electric shaver.

Men usually shave a dry or powdered beard. This creates a dust an allergy problem, if he blows the clippings after cleaning the shaver!

Have him use a drop of baby oil on a moist palm, rub well into the beard, and then use that electric shaver. This gives a smooth, close comfortable shave and makes the clippings adhere together for easier cleaning of the brush to empty the shaver.

Don't blow the dust into the waste basket, use a medium size paper sack to hold the clipping separately. We have also found that use of the baby oil on the beard helps to lubricate the shaverhead.

ATRIOTS.

DEAR HELOISE: I am a widow who cleans up offices... after hours.

I have worked in this building 20 years. There are some executive who do not like their desk disturbed.

A feather duster just will not take those cigar and cigarette butts off the desk. I have found that you can remove the cleaning gadget from the end of the vacuum cleaner and hold it slightly above the desk and it will suck up all of these executive ashes which they get on their papers.

ONE MUST be very careful to hold the suction cup high enough so as not to suck up any paper! Or hold your hand on the stack of papers while doing it.

Another thing... you can put the suction hole directly into the ashtray and it will suck up butts and all.

As a suggestion to tired housewives why can't they use this to clean cluttered shelves?

ANNIE THE MAID.
And just why couldn't they?
I did! It works beautifully.

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Do you or any of your readers know anything that will clean chrome legs on the bathroom lavatory? I have tried several things but nothing seems to clean the spots off.

M.P.

Got a simple answer? If it costs no extra effort, and energy (fingernails or skin off the hands) please do drop us a line. Seems like every household has chrome legs in one place or the other. Letters do

Perry Trustees Plan For Summer Work On Roads

Perry Township trustees, at their regular meeting Monday night, made plans for summer road work and received a request from Brookview Manor residents for street lights and street signs.
A contract for 1,400 tons of slag for roads was let to the U. S. Steel Co. of Youngstown and a contract was awarded to the E. R. McCleery Co. of Youngstown to haul the slag at 89 cents a ton. The slag price to U.S. Steel varies but averages $2. a ton, Township Clerk R. L. Hutcheson said.

The trustees will seek bids for the oiling of dirt roads in the township.

Announcement was made that "No Parking" signs have been erected along highways in the township and that the law will be enforced by the constables.

It was reported that Perry Township service crews collected two dump truck loads of junk and refuse which people had thrown out along the roads.

The trustees' next meeting will be May 13 at the township house on the Depot Road.

2 Women Hurt As Auto Hits Tree

missioner for the Pacific Trust Territory, said he had asked President Kennedy to declare Saipan, Tinian and Rota disaster areas. This would prepare the way for federal assistance to repair storm damage.

The radio message said about 45 per cent of Saipan's 2,000 public buildings were destroyed or damaged.

Most of the island's 12,000 natives were left homeless, Benietz said. The Trust Territory administration building and two Catholic churches were being used to house the homeless, he said.

Trust Territory officials were still awaiting word from Tinian and Rota Islands, also to the north.

Earlier Benietz said the eye of the storm apparently passed directly over Saipan. He said all crops on Rota, a small island where the natives are mostly farmers or fishermen, were destroyed.

All of Saipan's crops were lost, the official said.

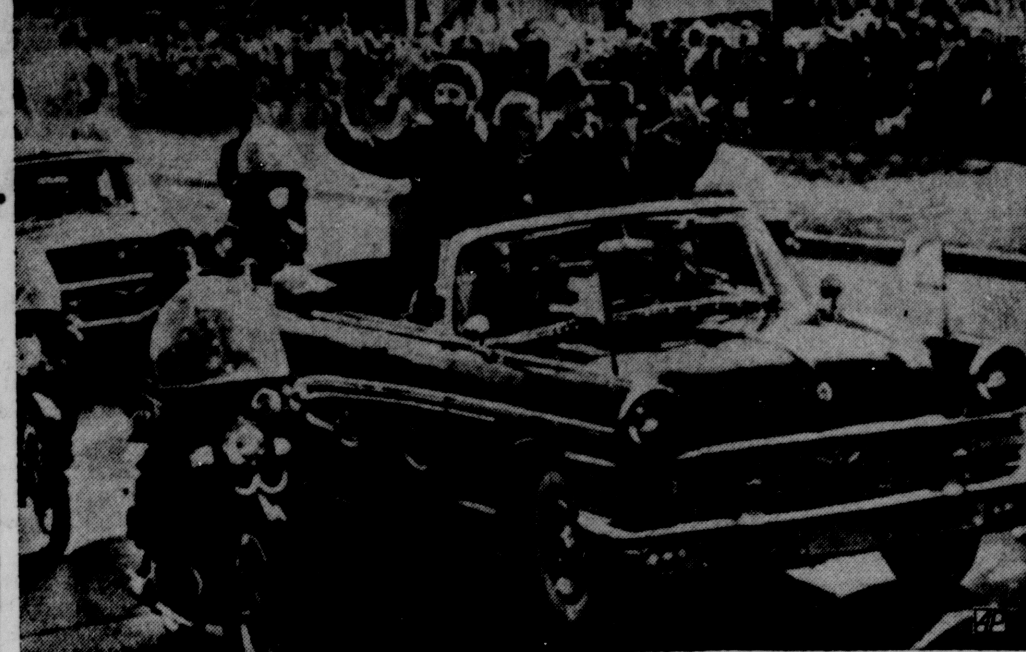

Typhoon Olive buffeted Guam Monday and Tuesday before moving north. Many of the home damages on Guam were the same structures flattened Nov. 11 when Typhoon Karen slashed across the island, virtually leveling it.

The island of Rota has a native population of about 1,000. Tinian has about 500 residents.

Seek To Stave Off Arab Attack

U.S. Senators Urge Israel Defense Pact

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Republican senators called today for U.S. intervention to stave off any Arab aggression against Israel in the explosive Middle East.

Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., proposed that the United States attempt to get Great Britain, France and other Western nations to join it in a collective defense agreement with Israel.

Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., said this country should offer its good offices for direct peace negotiations between Israel and its Arab neighbors. Egypt's Gamal Abdel Nasser is attempting to weld the Arab nations into a United Arab Republic.

Javits said in a prepared Senate speech that a threatened pro-Nasser takeover of Jordan, plus threats to Israel, indicates "time is running out on peace in the Middle East."

"To stop a mounting war threat now and foreclose also renewed Communist mischief," he said, "the United States in concert with the United Kingdom, France and other interested nations should offer to join in a collective defense agreement with Israel and any other Middle East state willing to join and carry out its obligations for the preservation of peace and security in the Middle East."

"The Soviet Union's support of Nasser goes far beyond even the huge masses of guns, tanks, planes, submarines and ships that it has poured into Egypt to re-equip Nasser's armies."

"Because the Kremlin knows Israel is committed to the free world by conviction as well as every other tie, it regards Israel as legitimate prey, and it will—as it has already—use every opportunity to stir up the Arabs and support their attacks on Israel."

Scott called in an address to the Adas Israel Congregation Monday night for an end to the Kennedy administration's "even-handed" policy in dealing with Middle East nations. He said this should be supplanted by direct support of Israel.

The determining factor in such a case, the chairman explained, is not whether the farm will be producing wheat in 1964. Rather, it is whether (1) the farm has a wheat acreage allotment (preserved under Conservation Reserve Program provisions) and (2) the producer on that farm would have had an interest in the wheat that would have been produced except for the farm's participation in the Conservation Reserve.

The operator of a farm which has an allotment of less than 15 acres, therefore, will have to indicate his intention to participate in the 1964 wheat program as an allotment grower if he wants to vote in the May 21 referendum.

This may be done by notifying the ASCS County Office by May 13. The allotment notice sent to each farm operator contains a place or indicating such a choice.

that Haitian guards still were stationed across the street from the Dominican Embassy.

Rosenberg said Haitian guards also were posted outside the Brazilian, Venezuelan and Ecuadorian embassies. These three and the Dominican Embassy are believed to be sheltering more than 70 Haitians who took refuge there after Duvalier began rounding up opponents last week.

Rosenberg said Foreign Minister Rene Chalmers told him the Duvalier regime would await arrival of the OAS team before deciding its next move.

Safe Stolen April 1 Found In Ravine

LISBON — Chief Deputy Robert Beresford reported today that a safe stolen from the Cunningham Service Station in Wellsville was found Monday afternoon in a ravine off 25th St. Extension, Wellsville.

The safe, containing less than $100 in change and bills was carted away the night of April 1. Deputy Beresford said it had been broken open. John Cunningham, who reported the burglary to the Wellsville police, identified the safe.

The thieves broke a window to gain entrance to the gas station and then apparently carried the safe out the front door.

Trucker In Fatal Crash Had History Of Blackouts

AKRON, Ohio (AP)—Two Cuyahoga Heights policemen have quoted a truck driver charged with the traffic deaths of six Akron school teachers as saying he either blacked out or dozed off shortly before the fatal crash.

Patrolmen Reno Santini and Joseph L. Crooks testified Monday in the first day of the trial of Justin Gedraitis, 43, of Cleveland. Gedraitis is charged with six counts of traffic manslaughter stemming from the accident last November on the Willow Freeway.

Santini quoted Gedraitis as saying the firm for which the truck driver worked knew of his history of blackouts.

Crooks said Gedraitis told him that he thought he had dozed off. "He said he hadn't anything to drink and then mentioned he had been troubled with blackouts before," Crooks testified.

A three-judge panel is hearing the case because Gedraitis waived a jury trial.

County Burglary Admitted by Trio

LISBON — Columbiana County sheriff's deputies cleared up a house burglary when they received a confession from a Yongs-town couple and a juvenile at the Mahoning County jail Monday.

Howard W. Walp, 20, Lorraine Minerva Merriman, 19, and a 15-year-old boy admitted to breaking into the Clarence Miller home, 6 Bull Creek Road, south of Firestone Farms, Saturday between 11 a.m. and 12:30 p.m. while the Millers were shopping.

Taken from the Miller home were a floor polisher, .22 caliber rifle, 12 gauge shot gun, boy's jacket, penny bank, gold lapel watch, three necklaces and a plastic bag containing 200 pennies.

Mahoning County deputies arrested the trio following investigation of several house burglaries Saturday in that county.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan said he is not sure whether the subjects will be turned over to Columbiana County.

The juvenile was turned over to Mahoning County juvenile authorities for prosecution.

Scholastic Track Stars Better Three State Records

Eisner Tosses Shot 60 Feet

Cleveland's Jones Runs High In 14.1

CLEVELAND (AP) — Ohio's high school track stars are heading for a banner season, with one all-time state record and two state meet standards already bettered.

With the state championships just four weeks away, performers rapidly are approaching top form as this first listing of Ohio outstanding track and field marks attests. The list is compiled by Ed Chay of the Plain Dealer, who keeps a pulse on scholastic track-meet.

The two state meet records already bettered are in the shot put and 120-yard high hurdles, with performers threatening the pole vault, high jump, 100-yard dash and low hurdles marks.

Marty Eisner of Cleveland Heights, a 6-foot-1, 210-pound senior, has put the shot 60 feet 8 inches—an all-time Ohio scholastic record—and well over the state meet record of 59-9 1/2.

Clinton Jones of Cleveland Cathedral Latin holds the best 120-yard high hurdles time, 14.1 seconds, which better the existing state meet record of 14.4 and is just one-tenth of a second over the all-time Ohio record of 14 flat. He also has the best reported time in the 180-yard low hurdles with 19.2 seconds.

Three pole vaulters have cleared 13 feet. Mansfield's John Linta, whose father set the existing state meet record of 13-9 1/2 24 years ago, leads with 13-8. Jim Showers of Marion Harding and Jim Clark of Columbus Eastmoor are also over 13 feet.

Bill Newman of Columbus Hilliard is one-quarter inch short of the state high jump record of 6-5 with his leading 6-4 1/2, while speedster Paul Garrett of Sandusky has a 9.7 clocking in the 100-yard dash, one-tenth of a second off Jesse Owen's 9.6 record, and Jones 19.2 in the low hurdles is within distance of the state meet mark of 18.9.

Illness Helps, Jolts U.S. Track Team in Brazil Meet

By JERRY LISKA

Associated Press Sports Writer
SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Illness gave the gold medal-laden U.S. track team both a boost and a blow as the track and field events resumed today at the Pan-American Games.

The only final event on today's card is the 3,000-meter steeplechase. George Young of Las Cruces, N.M., fifth in the event at the 1958 Games, probably will be scratched.

He has a lung spot which has failed to clear to the satisfaction of team doctors.

Balancing the loss of Young was the elimination of Cuban Enrique Figueroa, 100-meter winner, from the 200-meter trials today. The chunky Cuban sprinter is down with neuralgia. His absence should improve the chances of U.S. sprinters.

In addition to the 200-meters, trials are on tap in the broad jump, shot put, high jump and 400-meter hurdles. The decathlon also gets under way.

The U.S. has collected 64 gold medals so far. Three came Monday, all in shooting, during a very light schedule.

Yachting is scheduled to wind up today in all six classes, with competition in basketball, baseball, boxing, volleyball and water polo.

Another report from the sick bay had Earl Young of Abilene, Tex., fit for the 400 and 1,600 meter relays Saturday. Young day because of stomach trouble.

The U.S. also made an official request for heats in the 1,500-meters, where Jim Beatty and Jim Grelle, Americas premier distance men, are the main attractions.

Head coach Lou Montgomery of Cornell said he wanted the heats Friday to trim the 14-man field to more manageable size. Beatty and Grelle will shoot Saturday for the games record of 3 minutes, 49.1 seconds set by Dyrrol Burleson in 1959, and should snap it by 10 seconds if they get running room.

11 Races Set At Canfield For Saturday

Canfield Speedway staged 11 races last week so that the large amount of cars would be in action.

So Manager Charlie Findlay has set another big 11-race card next Saturday night for the late models and amateurs. Some 100 cars are expected to be on hand.

In the opening Canfield card, many of the top racing stars in Ohio were on hand. They included Bob James of Akron who had to settle for second place behind Bill Forney of Youngstown in last Saturday night's feature.

Also in the lineup were Kenny Lowe of Akron, Ray Smeznik of Cleveland, John McNaughton of Painesville, Bob Stasick of Cleveland, Bob Ashbrook of Cleveland, and with regulars Nook Walters of Niles, Mason Heister of Youngstown, Bob Greer of Hubbard, Paul Kerr of Youngstown, Jim Bickerstaff of Warren, Rabbi Hipple of Salem and many others.

Bickerstaff, defending Canfield champ, had his troubles and dropped out of the feature on the 7th lap.

All of these stars will be back again next week to provide some thrilling action.

Over 60 cars signed in for the amateur division and Jerry Kacvinsky of Youngstown gained his first Canfield victory in the feature.

Dave Benner of Austintown made a good showing and proved he will be one of the top drivers to watch this year. Benner won a heat race and the pursuit and was second in the feature.

With another big field of cars, some 100 or more, racing fans are in for another big thrilling card next Saturday night.

Gates to the speedway open at 6:30 p.m. Timetrials begin at 7 and first race at 8:30 p.m.

Baseball, on the American plan, had an international flavor today with the menu featuring a bunch of men in blue acting like Dutch windmill sand a couple of guys wondering whether they'll have to climb into khakis in the Caribbean.

The umpires went into their windmill act again Monday night, waving the winning run home on a balk as the New York Mets defeated the Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2 in a historic game that insured the 1963 balk controversy its place in the record books.

San Francisco outfielder Felipe

Alou said after the Giants 4-3 victory over Philadelphia that he and pitcher Juan Marichal might be recalled to military service with the Dominican Republics armed forces because of their homelands current crisis with Haiti.

The only other major league games were played at Los Angeles where the Senators and Angels of the American League took turns walloping each other in a two-night doubleheader. The Senators won the opener 9-3, the Angels took the nightcap 13-8.

Rain postponed the other games—Houston at Pittsburgh and Chicago at Cincinnati in the NL, and Baltimore at Minnesota and New York at Chicago in the AL.

The runs were forced in by balks in the Mets-Dodgers game. The first, charged to New York starter Roger Craig, gave Los Angeles a 2-1 lead in the second inning. That held until the seventh when Ed Kranepool started a three-run rally with a double off Bob Miller. Charlie Neal then beat out a bunt, Kranepool scored the tying run on a wild pitch and Al Moran followed with a single that chased Miller.

Ed Roebuck came in on relief and balked while pitching to pinch hitter Marv Throneberry, sending Neal across with the deciding run. Jim Hickman's single drove in the final run, giving Craig a little extra working room as he went the distance with a seven-hitter.

The balks were the 77th and 78th in the NL this season. The previous record was 76, set by the NL in 1950.

The Giants got a lift when slumping Willie Mays tripled and scored the winning run on Orlando Cepeda's single in the third victory, snapping a three-game losing streak, went to Jack Fisher, who scattered 10 hits for his first NL victory.

Chuch Hinton of the Senators and George Thomas of the Angels took hitting honors in the twinbill, each collecting five hits and driving in four runs.

The Senators wrapped up the opener for Don Rudolph with a four-run fifth inning uprising on a walk, Minnie Monoso's single, a throwing error by reliever Julio Navarro on Hinton's grounder and Ed Brinkmans double. That tagged Bob Turley with his third loss. He has yet to win.

The Angel's won the nightcap by sending 12 men to the plate in a single by pinch hitter Al Moran drove in the tie-breaking run. Mel Nelson was the winner with Jim Hannan taking the loss.

Horse Has Independent Disposition

Never Bend May Cause Handlers Trouble Before Derby Saturday

By KELSO STURGEON

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Trainer Woody Stephens hopes his Kentucky Derby colt Never Bend gets up on the right side of the stall Saturday.

Never Bend has a few days when doesn't relish doing anything except what he wants. He was in one of those moods in the recent Forerunner Purse at Keeneland and was hard-pressed to win.

The Cain Hoy colts independence is traced to his sire, Nasrullah, an English-bred horse with great speed and a sour disposition.

While Never Bend rested today, eight sophomores race in the one mile Derby Trial with the chance that one or more of the 3-year-olds would make it to the Derby Saturday.

Russell A. Firestones Jet Traffic was co-favorite with Bonjour in the trial and needed an impressive showing to earn a Derby berth. The field also included Sleuth Hound, Wild Card, Gray Pet, On My Honor, Investor and Rajah Noor.

Never Bends daddy, Nasrullah, sulked so much that it was not unusual for his handlers to have to chase him to the post.

"We think about this quite often, Stephens said, "You seldom find a Nasrullah that isn't a little bit on the independent side."

"Never Bend seldom gives us a bad time, but when he does he's hard to settle down, Stephens said.

Sebring League Holds Drawing of Players

SEBRING — At a meeting of the Sebring Hot Stove League in the VFW Hall Monday evening, managers drew for their respective teams.

Bill Campbell, league president, announced that players will be contacted soon and that practice will begin as soon as fields are in readiness. The opening games are planned for the first week in June.

H and G team managers are still urgently needed, Campbell said.

The next league meeting will be at 7:30 p.m. May 13 at the VFW Hall.

96 Shooters Compete In Event Held By Archers Club

Chuck Beckett fired a 963 score to take top honors in the men's instinctive 400 freestyle class in the invitational tournament held by the Columbiana County Archery Club near Lisbon Sunday.

A total of 96 shooters competed in the day-long event, with Deer Creek Archers grabbing team honors. Bob and Clara Sayers won the husband and wife match with 1,466.

A special prize was given to the Thunderbird Archers for the biggest representation.

Following Beckett in the 400 freestyle class for men were Gino Conti, 900, and John Bevington, 893. In the 325 freestyle class, Art Hoshing was first with 782. Don Vogle placed second with 742 and Fred Everhart had 719.

In the 350 class Ron Fickes placed number one with 822. He was followed by Jim Griffith, 786, and Harold Foltz, 745. In 175 class Richard Perkins shot a 571 to grab first.

In the men's instinctive 400 class Pat Marzette was first with 777, Bill Liggett followed with 771 and Dave Rook shot 768.

Don Lenhardt led the 325 bracket with 767. Harland Jamison finished second with 712 and Frank Stevenson was on target for 703. Don Mounts shot a 660 to win the 250 class. Jack Hughs was second with 658 and Loudano finished third with 655.

In the 175 class Ray Sickle shot a 600, Jim Simpson placed second with 574 and Richard Marshall was third with 567. Jerry Cox led the field in the 512 class. Walter Hunt placed second with 488 and Ken Green was third at 447.

Clara Sayers took the 275 class, shooting 681 in the women's instinctive division. Gerry Liggett won the 225 class with 368.

Groza Inks 17th Pact

With Cleveland Browns

CLEVELAND (AP)—Lou (The Toe) Groza, who sets a new National Football League scoring record everytime he kicks a point, has signed his 1963 contract with the Cleveland Browns.

This will be the 17th season for the 39-year-old placekicker, who sat out the 1960 campaign because of a back injury but made a strong comeback in 1961.

Canton Broker Has 'Memory Lapses'

Stark May Handle Domer Case Probe

CANTON, Ohio (AP)—Authorities are expected to make a decision soon on who will handle the investigation of the Domer case involving a Canton businessman and a charred unidentified body take from a flaming automobile in Wayne County.

Robert K. Domer, 43, president of the Continental Mortgage Corp. and former president of the Stark County Regional Planning Commission, walked out of his home in a fashionable Canton suburb April 1. He did not return until Sunday, when he was taken into custody by the sheriff and FBI agents.

His flaming car containing the body was found in a Wayne County field a week ago. No charges have been filed in the man's death.

After two days of questioning Domer, Stark County Prosecutor Norman J. Putman only said that Domer had burns on his hands, face and right ankle when he was taken into custody. It was learned Domer was taken to Akron Monday for a check on statements by Domer that he stayed in Akron during his absence from home, that he was burned in a rooming house fire and that his car was stolen.

Wayne County Prosecutor James K. Leedy said Domer "lost his memory on where the rooming house was located. No car was reported stolen. No fire was reported in any rooming house." He indicated he expected the investigation to be handled in Stark County.

Sen. Young Silent On Whether He'll Seek Office Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, expounded on a number of topics at a news conference here Monday, but he left unanswered the question of whether he will seek reelection.

The senator devoted most of the conference to his plans concerning the Ohio delegation to the 1964 Democratic National Convention.

He made these points: If asked, he would be willing to head the delegation.

He has abandoned, for the time being at least, his unproductive efforts to unseat State Democratic Chairman William L. Coleman.

He thinks Reps. Michael A. Feighan and Charles A. Vanik, both of Cleveland, and Thomas L. Ashley, Toledo, and Robert Secrest, Senectville, are good prospects as delegates-at-large to the convention.

He thinks former Gov. Michael V. DiSalle was an excellent governor but harmed himself by making personal attacks on his opponent in last year's election campaign.

He believes Gov. James A. Rhodes has lost popularity since taking office and that if another election were held now, "DiSalle would get a lot more votes than he received last November."

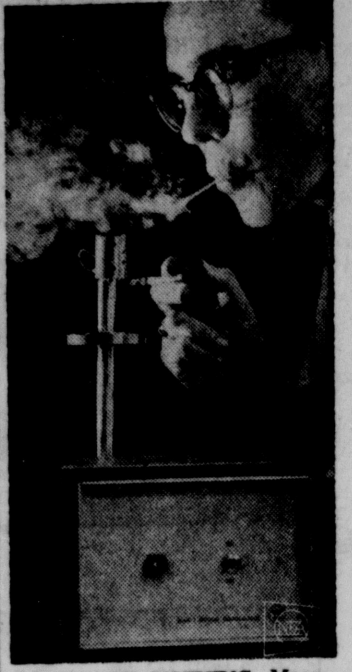

The expression "stuck up" to designate a person who believes he is very important was obtained from the peacock, who sticks up his colorful tail to emphasize his importance.

Pennsylvania Woman Forfeits In Lisbon

LISBON — A Pennsylvania woman forfeited bonds totaling $75 in Mayor Dean Stockman's court Monday when she failed to appear for a hearing.

Mrs. Elaine Glemzua Fisher, 20, of Beallsville, forfeited a $50 bond for reckless operation and $25 for driving without a driver's license. She was cited by village police April 22 when a car she was driving failed to negotiate the turn coming out of Jerome St. onto N. Market St., and struck a tree.

She is still confined to the Salem City Hospital where she was taken with lacerations of both knees. Her family posted the bonds so she could be taken directly home when she is released from the hospital.

New Hampshire Lottery Fate To Be Disclosed

CONCORD, N.H. (AP) — Gov. John W. King tells a joint session of the House and Senate today whether New Hampshire will become the first state in nearly 70 years to legalize a sweepstakes.

The Democratic governor planned to appear before the Republican-dominated legislature to disclose whether he will sign a controversial sweepstakes bill, veto it or permit it to become law without his signature.

Not since 1894, when the privately operated Louisiana lottery went out of business, has a sweepstakes or lottery been sanctioned by any state.

Sweepstakes bills also are under consideration by legislatures in Massachusetts and Vermont. Other states seeking ways to increase revenue are meeting pre-tender race track betting.

Supporters of the New Hampshire bill predicted that two sweepstakes a year, based on horse races at Rockingham Park in Salem, just across the state line from Massachusetts, would yield $4 million annually for the state, earmarked for support of schools.

Tickets would be sold for no more than $3 each at Rockingham Park and other tracks, and at state liquor stores in communities that approve.

The measure provided that such ticket sales would be referred to the voters on the ballot every two years, as the sale on liquor is now.
